The international abbreviation GMP means Good Manufacturing Practice - a guarantee of high quality products. GMP are the practices required in order to conform to guidelines recommended by agencies that control authorization and licensing for manufacture and sale of food, diet supplement products, and other active pharmaceutical products. GMP emphasis on appropriate conditions of hygiene in the production process and the health of the personnel, so that the manufactured product meets the specific requirements of high quality and be safe for the consumer.

□□ The manufacturing process of Polinesians Noni must be carried out properly, according to specific instructions and procedures to ensure uniformity and consistency of the product. GMP for Noni juice from CaliVita occurs when we provide a constant and strict control of all elements of production in the subsequent phases of product creation, from the supply of raw ingredients, through manufacture, production, packaging and labeling, and ending with the storage and distribution of finished product.

□□ This system can be compared to the chain. A failure of one chain link, interrupts whole process, and thus does not meet its objective to achieve a high quality product. For Polinesians Noni this is not the case. The general rule here is to eliminate any improvisation and randomness from the GMP manufacturing process. All operations must be carried out exactly as indicated by written instructions and procedures. Every action performed must be recorded and confirmed in the relevant document and verification of production strictly according to GMP documentation gives CaliVita the right to hold a certificate of GMP.

□□ Polinesians Noni and all other products of CaliVita International are also certified by the office of the most rigorous control of food and medicines and namely Food and Drug Administration (FDA). FDA decided to keep Polinesians Noni juice from CaliVita under a special category called GRAS - Generally Recognized As Safe. For example: coffee or aspirin is not considered as being safe to be listed under GRAS group! This means that Polinesians Noni is being seen and considered as safe for children, pregnant women and for nursing mothers.

□□ FDA and GMP certification is important for CaliVita because it wants to assure every person buying this dietary supplement, that it is 100% safe and natural. Also every customer wants to know that it is not a defective product, that it has all the ingredients listed on the packaging and does not contain any impurities.
